

Contents

Introduction

Sandip Hazareesingh and Harro Maat

1. Rice as Commodity and Anti-Commodity

Paul Richards

2. Yellow Tobacco, Black Tobacco: Indigenous (desi) Tobacco as an Anti-Commodity

Kathinka Sinha-Kerkhoff

3. Upland and Lowland Rice in the Netherlands Indies

Harro Maat

4. Anti-Commodity Counterpoint: Smallholder Diversity and Rural Development on the Cuban Sugar Frontier

Jonathan Curry-Machado

5. 'Your Foreign Plants are Very Delicate': Peasant Crop Ecologies and the Subversion of Colonial Cotton Designs in Dharwar, Western India

Sandip Hazareesingh

6. Sanitising Commercialisation: Health and the Politics of 'Waste' in Colonial Punjab

Lauren Minsky

7. East African Railways and Harbours 1945-1960: From 'Crisis of Accumulation' to Labour Resistance

David Hyde

8. Rice, Civilisation and the Swahili Towns: Anti-Commodity and Anti-State?

Erik Gilbert

9. 'Shun the White Man's Crop': Shangwe Grievances, Religious Leaders and Cotton Cultivation in North-Western Zimbabwe

Simeon Maravanyika